

Our pre-ordering click and collect platform supports social distancing and offers an easy-to-use solution that helps drive sales whilst managing operational demand.

The platform allows customers to view your menu, order their food/drink, and collect their order or request a delivery time, completely eliminating the need for direct customer interaction.

The app simplifies the order process for both your customers and your food service team.

Social distance and increase sales

Deploying the pre-order click and collect platform actively promotes and encourages social distancing (as well as increasing sales).

It reduces the human-to-human contact risk for your consumers through pre-payment and by virtually eliminating queuing. It's both convenient and safe.

Available as a web-based platform or app, features include...

- ▶ The facility to upsell products in the order process to drive increased spend
- ▶ Customer alerts and order updates via push notifications or email
- ▶ The option to load multiple menus and pricing for different outlets
- ▶ End to end management via the back of house platform
- ▶ A 'pay at table' module is available if required
